

Sanjay Ubale

Former Secretary to Government of Maharashtra in charge of Mumbai Development and Currently Member of Governing Board Mumbai First Sanjay Ubale is a Board member of the new Noida International Airport. He is also an investor, former Director of Infrastructure & Urbanism at Tata Group and a former senior IAS officer with over twenty years' experience. He played a key role in large-scale projects as special secretary to the Maharashtra government, including transforming Mumbai into a world-class city. He led initiatives for infrastructure development, urban renewal and improved governance. Previously, he was Director of World Bank-funded projects to improve access to safe drinking water for more than 600 villages. He holds a bachelor's degree in physics, mathematics and statistics from the University of Mumbai and a master's degree in marketing management, and studied at the University of Bath, UK.